Idyllwild Arts Academy in Los Angeles, California, is the only independent boarding school on the West Coast of the United States. It is one of only three arts independent boarding schools in the United States. The school enrolls young people with artistic talents from the United States and around the world. It has away-from-the-dust campuses and excellent art education courses. The school offers professional preparatory courses in creative writing, dance, film and film production, music, drama and visual arts. Students live and study in real artist communities. Student dancers, musicians, singers, actors, theatre technicians, visual artists, creative writers and interdisciplinary majors interact in many positive ways.

Community

Located on the west slope of San Jacinto Mountain, California, USA, the campus is naturally beautiful, with natural mountains, forests and grasslands, far from the noisy city. It is very suitable for artistic learning and creation. Driving to Los Angeles or San Diego for about 1.5 hours, close to the famous Palm Spring, shopping, life is complete. Idyllwild Town is known by many people as a paradise, the natural environment is very beautiful, quiet and peaceful atmosphere makes people happy physically and mentally.

The boarding students are in a room of two, supervised by the dormitory counselor. Rigorous family environment provides students with solid assistance in arts, disciplines and social life.

College Matriculation

Unlike traditional boarding high schools, students at Idyllwild Arts Academy in California tend to choose art-oriented colleges, including The Julliard School, Berklee College of Music, Elon University, Fordham University, Kansas City Art Institute, Manhattan School of Music, New York University, Oklahoma City University, Pratt Institute, San Francisco Art Institute, Swarthmore College, University of Michigan, University of Puget Sound, University of Rochester, etc.

Clubs & Activities

Many recreational activities are carried out in the wild because the campus is located on a mountain forest land of 5,000 feet and 205 acres above sea level. Hiking, rock climbing and cross-country skiing are popular activities. There are other more traditional activities such as French, Spanish, yoga, weightlifting, bowling, aerobic dance and so on. On weekends, the school arranges to visit villages of Idyllwild (including museums, galleries, cinemas, monuments, etc.) or to have picnics and shopping near the school.
